Unsheltered Data Dashboard Review

Shelby Ferguson provided a review of prevention and rapid exit data, as well as Sheriff's eviction data for the period April 2024 to June 2024. In the reporting period, 84% of exits from prevention programs were to temporary or permanent housing destinations. The total number of exits in the quarter was lower than in the prior quarter. This is the last quarter of the fiscal year, and constraints resulting from funding spend downs have led to a lower volume of households served through prevention and rapid exit programs. Although only a handful of households had negative exits, due to the smaller total number of exits these negative exits have impacted the successful exit rate to a greater extent. Shelby noted that the BACS prevention program remains in a pilot phase.

Shelby Ferguson shared that 402 eviction notices were served by the Sheriff's office in the April 2024-June 2024 time period. The volume of eviction notices served in this quarter is lower than the prior quarter, but remains high given the short time frame. Shelby noted that although eviction notices are a potential risk factor for entering homelessness, the households served did not necessarily access the Homelessness Response System.

Shelby Ferguson presented a 100% exit rate from rapid exit programs to temporary or permanent housing destinations. She noted that this rate was derived from seven total exits, and that Hope Solutions was the only rapid exit provider in the system. The low number of people served through rapid exit was due to the same reasons affecting prevention programs, related to closing out the fiscal year.

Deanne Pearn asked whether data was available on the number of eviction notices for which eviction was prevented, the number which resulted in removal, or any other outcome. Matt Mitchell responded that the level of detail was not available in the Sherriff's Office report, but that there was a subset available regarding removals. Shelby noted that although the data is not currently available, it would be helpful to know which households overlapped with homelessness services.

Jo Bruno inquired about data collection, including reasons behind evictions, and Shelby responded that information regarding reasons was not tracked. The Sherriff's Office reports have been made available for about a year and are also routinely presented to the Board of Supervisors. Wayne Earle noted that unofficial evictions are common in addition to the official evictions documented by the Sherriff's Office. Wayne asked whether this group was included in the data collected and inquired as to their eligibility for services through the system. Shelby responded that people in such circumstances would likely be eligible for services if they contacted 211 to seek services, but that they are not included in the data reported by the Sherriff's Office.

Jill Ray noted that the Sherriff's Office is mandated to serve eviction notices by the court, and that there were 72 writs of possession of property with tenant removal in the quarter, per the details included in the report. Only two of these tenant households were removed with force, indicating that the household did not voluntarily vacate. The group noted that the remaining households who were not removed must have found a different solution, such as a resolution or a voluntary move out. However, Jill Ray noted the possibility of a lag between a household being served an eviction notice and that household being removed from their unit, given the potential for a lengthy timeline with the possibility of appeals and court hearings.

Shawn Ray asked whether data is collected on the reasons behind households' loss of housing. Shelby responded that this data is collected for those who access prevention services in HMIS, and that the information could be pulled from HMIS for those households.

CoC Participant Satisfaction Survey Results

Shelby Ferguson presented the results of the 2024 annual survey of participants of contracted and funded homelessness services programs in the system. Several program types were included in the survey: prevention, rapid exit, CORE, CARE centers, shelters and transitional living programs, rapid rehousing and permanent supportive housing. The survey was developed by a lived experience advisory group and included questions on program participants' identities and experiences. Shelby shared that 605 surveys were submitted in 2024, most of which were from participants of permanent supportive housing, shelter, and rapid rehousing. Shelby speculated that this could be due to the residential nature of these programs, providing the stability which may be necessary for participants to access and complete the survey. She shared that 60% of survey respondents had been accessing services for 12 months or longer and noted that this aligned closely with the results from the prior year's survey.

Shelby Ferguson shared that 35 responses were from participants of prevention and rapid exit programs in the system. Of these respondents, 64% reported hearing about these services through 211, 26% through other service providers, and 10% from Coordinated Entry flyers. Surveys revealed a high level of positive feedback for prevention and rapid exit programs, including feelings of being treated with dignity and respect, a welcoming and safe environment, a likelihood of recommending the program to others, and optimism about the future, among other items.

Shelby Ferguson noted room for improvement regarding access to information on how to access services and resources available in the community. Potential strategies to address feedback include requiring CoC onboarding for new staff, implementing ongoing refresher trainings, providing resource sheets for managers, and providing flyers for clients with information on services and resources.

Juno Hedrick shared their perspective as someone who supported the administration of the survey among youth receiving services in the community. Juno noted that youth participants' experiences with programs may vary significantly from week to week or even day to day. Juno also noted that some youth expressed a lack of understanding as to why they were being asked some of the questions included in the survey. They recommended providing additional context for future surveys that better explains the reasoning behind each question. Shelby Ferguson indicated that a one-pager was provided with overall reasoning behind the survey, but not at the question level, and that more effort could have gone into distributing that document.

Wayne Earl shared that from his own experience with survey participation, the power differential between services providers and clients as well as the effects of trauma could lead to bias in responses. He acknowledged that he didn't have a solution to the problem to offer at this time, but that this could be an area for the group to dig into further. He recommended looking into asking a third party to execute the survey rather than the County. Shelby Ferguson emphasized that the surveys are optional and anonymous and that this is made explicit in the survey, but that perhaps more could be done to combat this issue.

Shelby Ferguson shared that a new section on demographics was added to the 2024 survey which was not included in prior years, although otherwise the survey has remained unchanged for the past few years. A few groups responded to the survey at disproportionately high rates relative to the representation of these groups in the Continuum of Care at large: Black, African American, or African people, Hispanic/Latina/e/o people, Asian or Asian American people, and households with children.

Shelby Ferguson shared that these results would be presented to the August 2024 Oversight Committee and the August 2024 Equity Committee, and that the September 2024 Equity Committee meeting would include feedback collection on potential improvements to the survey.

Annual Report

Shelby Ferguson presented highlights from the Annual Report. She shared that the purpose of the Annual Report is to provide a comprehensive summary of activities and outcomes related to the Homelessness Response System, and that this report covers data from the calendar year 2023.

Shelby Ferguson shared that the system has experienced an increase in program utilization at both the individual level and at the household level. There has been a 28% increase in households served between 2019 and 2023. She noted that the system has expanded its services, particularly for families with children. Over the past 5 years, enrollments have increased across a variety of program types. Crisis services included 66% of total system enrollments in 2023, 21% of enrollments were in prevention or diversion, and 13% were in permanent housing programs. Shelby shared that although there has been an increase in permanent housing program enrollments, the system still does not have the capacity to meet the need for these types of services in the community. Notably, there has been a 173% increase in prevention and diversion enrollments from 2019 to 2023. New prevention programs have been funded through Measure X and HHAP.

Shelby Ferguson noted that households with children make up 47% of households receiving prevention or diversion but make up smaller proportions of households receiving services from crisis response and permanent housing programs. Shelby shared that people who are Black, African American or African make up the largest racial or ethnic group receiving prevention, or diversion and rapid exit in the system. Overall, permanent housing exit rates are very high, ranging from 85%-100% across subpopulations receiving prevention services. Permanent housing exit rates are substantially lower from crisis response services.

Measure X Funding Update

Shelby Ferguson presented an update on the status of Measure X funding. Measure X recommendations from H3 were approved by the Board of Supervisors in June 2024. The Measure X Request for Proposals included multiple other funding sources in addition to Measure X, which can be used to support programs such as the Homeless Housing, Assistance and Prevention Program, the Housing Disability Advocacy Program, and Probation.

PLAN FOR ACCELERATING TRANSFORMATIVE HOUSING (PATH) INNOVATIONS COMMITTEE MEETING

Shelby Ferguson shared that the targeted prevention program will focus on people with disabilities, people at imminent risk of losing their housing, and severely rent burdened people. The total recommended for prevention, diversion and rapid exit was $2.74 million, including awards to four non-profit providers and about $1 million dedicated to legal services.

Shelby Ferguson noted that about 60% of each award would be dedicated to direct financial assistance and 40% to staffing and operations. About 330 households are expected to be served through this funding, and each provider will have measurable outcomes built into their service plans. In the last year, 350 households were estimated to be served, but this goal was exceeded at 512 households, a majority of which were served in prevention programs and the remaining households in rapid exit programs.

Deanne Pearn expressed concerns that Hope Solutions would likely spend down their funding in the first six months of the year. She inquired about the possibility of setting monthly maximums so that funding can be extended year-round. She noted the burden on both clients and staff when assistance that meets the needs of clients is not available.

Mary Juarez-Fitzgerald noted that similar conversations were underway with 2-1-1. She shared that 2-1-1 can now send referrals directly to CalWorks, which has some prevention resources for families available. Mary reminded the group about the community goal of piloting a screening tool for prevention prioritization in an effort to identify people at highest risk of homelessness or with the highest housing barriers.

Deanne Pearn requested that others please not recommend walk-ins to Hope Solutions, as they do not have the capacity to keep up with the volume that they are receiving.

Wayne Earl echoed concerns about funding availability year-round and expressed a desire for more prevention and rapid exit funding in the system so that capacity could meet needs more effectively.

Community Solutions Funding Update

Mary Juarez-Fitzgerald presented an update on prevention capacity building funding from Community Solutions. Mary shared that the community has participated in a coordinated prevention cohort and technical assistance efforts over the past couple of years. Community Solutions awarded the County with funding in late 2023 for prevention capacity building. This funding was originally earmarked to support H3 Coordinated Entry and HMIS staff. However, Mary shared that some of these funds have been repurposed toward collaboration with 2-1-1, who triage a majority of prevention referrals in the community. These funds will be utilized to support the launch and pilot of a prevention tool with 2-1-1. Mary noted that prevention providers have been requesting a tool to help prioritize prevention referrals.

PLAN FOR ACCELERATING TRANSFORMATIVE HOUSING (PATH) INNOVATIONS COMMITTEE MEETING

Housing Focused Case Management Training Update

Shelby Ferguson presented an update on a recent Housing Focused Case Management Training that H3 provided to shelter, CORE, and Care Center providers in the community. The day long training was performed by Technical Assistance Collaborative (TAC) as a part of the technical assistance provided to the community by HUD through the Special NOFO. The training included reviewing housing first theory and policy, hearing from a panel of staff with lived experience of homelessness, and tools for the practical application of housing first case management. The training was designed to ensure consistency across front line staff in the provision of case management.

Shelby Ferguson shared that the training went well, would be provided again, and that the team has collected and plans to incorporate feedback.

Announcements

Deanne Pearn shared that her comments and questions are raised in the spirit of support and system improvement. She expressed appreciation for the work that H3 has done and is continuing to do.

Mary Juarez-Fitzgerald expressed appreciation for all of the questions and comments raised not only by Deanne but by other group members as well.

Next Steps

Matt Mitchell shared that the September meeting will be cancelled due to conflicts with Continuum of Care NOFO processes. The next Working Group meeting of the PATH Innovations Working Group Meeting is planned for October 17, 2024.

Meeting adjourned at 10:50 am.
