

CONTRA COSTA COUNTY AREA AGENCY ON AGING WHAT IS THE INTRASTATE FUNDING FORMULA, AND WHY IT MATTERS TO YOU?

The Intrastate Funding Formula (IFF) is how California decides how to share funding with local agencies that provide services for older adults. These agencies, called Area Agencies on Aging (AAA's), provide services like:

- Meals (congregate & home-delivered)
- Home visiting
- Long-term care ombudsman services
- Caregiver support
- Adult day care

The State, through the California Department of Aging (CDA), is updating this formula to reflect today's needs. The updated formula considers the following factors:

- Age (60+)
- Low Income
- Racial/Ethnic Minority
- Disability
- Geographic Isolation

Why This Matters in Contra Costa County. Contra Costa County's Area Agency on Aging serves more than 25,000 older adults a year.

Based on CDA's proposed formula change, Contra Costa County would see a 13% reduction ($770,057) in funding.

This could mean 124,202 fewer home delivered meals for seniors already receiving services.

Other essential services could be cut, and our network of community-based organizations could see substantial reductions in services.
